

Are you a Black transgender woman interested in HIV prevention?

Join our research study and earn up to $140

What is Project Transcendence ?

- Project Transcendence is a three-month-long research study aimed at understanding different factors that can influence engagement in HIV prevention behaviors among Black transgender women
- The goal of the study is to develop a program designed to better support Black transgender women's use of HIV prevention tools

You will be compensated:

- For completing 3 surveys over three months using a phone or a mobile device

Sign up: scan QR code or email:
projecttranscendence@ssw.umaryland.edu